V. Student Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of this course, the successful student will be able to:

1. Identify and critique the economic causes of the American Revolution.
2. Identify the transportation/communication innovations which laid the foundation for industrialization and growth in the American economy in the 19th and 20th centuries.
3. Discuss how transportation/communication innovations and infrastructure guided, facilitated, and enabled the growth of the American economy in the 19th and 20th centuries. Identify and discuss the forces that transformed the American economy from an agricultural foundation to an industrial and post-industrial economy.
4. Recall the major forces of technological change from 1865 to 1917.
5. Identify, discuss, and contrast the major forces of technological change in each of the early 19th, late 19th, early 20th, mid-to-late 20th centuries.
6. Trace and discuss the development of government policies towards business and the economy with particular attention to the struggle between laissez-faire economic philosophy and policies of government intervention.
7. Trace and discuss the development of the money, banking, and financial industries throughout American history including particular attention to monetary policy, the business cycle, and the role of Wall Street.
8. Identify and discuss the standards of living of average Americans throughout the 19th and 20th centuries and the impact economic growth had on everyday lives.
9. Identify and explain major movements and phenomena of American economic history including the settlement of the frontier, the Robber Barons ("the Gilded Age"), the Labor movement, urbanization, and The Great Depression.

VI. Methods of Instruction

This course is entirely online. Three primary methods of learning are used.

1. Students will read chapters in three books and other online resources.
2. Students will reflect on their readings by taking quizzes and posting in Critical Thinking Question forums.
3. Students will create a "virtual research paper". The paper (also called "the project") will examine an aspect of U.S. economic history and relate it to the themes discussed in the course. It is "virtual" because it won't be a traditional word-processing based paper. Instead it will take the form of creating a mini-website by posting to the econhist.econproph.net public website itself. Further directions on both the requirements of the project and how to make a post on the website will be provided during the course. No prior experience creating webpages is needed.

VII. Methods of Evaluating Student Achievement and Progress:

A. The following methods are used in this class:

Assignment	Points Possible	approx % of Course Grade
Quizzes (online)	110 points	34%

VIII. Course Practices and Policies

College-wide policies are stated in the College Catalog and include those on attendance, withdrawals, and incomplete grades. The College Catalog is available on the Internet at <http://www.lcc.edu/catalog/>. Lansing Community College provides services to students with documented disabilities. If you need accommodations, contact the Office of Disability Services at 517-483-1207 in room 2300 of Gannon Building to coordinate reasonable accommodations for your needs.

Additional course policies and practices for this course are:

Drops

Students are advised to familiarize themselves with the LCC Withdrawal Policy. It is available on the Internet at http://www.lcc.edu/policy/policies_9.aspx#W_GRADE. Under this policy, students may withdraw themselves from the course until the end of the eighth week. Students who do not participate online, have extended unexcused absences from online activity, or who engage in uncivil activity are subject to Administrative Withdrawal.

Attendance Policy

Students are expected to be active online every week and meet Unit expected completion dates. Students who go more than two weeks without logging-on and submitting work, and without explanation or notification to the professor are subject to Administrative Withdrawal for non-attendance. Students who do not complete Unit 1 by September 3 will be dropped.

Late Assignments

Each unit has an Expected Completion Date to complete all assignments for that unit. Late work may be accepted at the instructor's discretion for some assignments. Contact the instructor if you will not be able to meet the Expected Completion Date for any assignment. Some assignments cannot be accepted after their respective Expected Completion Dates. These "hard" deadlines include:

- Unit 1 (quiz and forum) must be completed by Sept 1 midnight (end of day).
- Project submissions must be completed and be ready by Nov 30 midnight.
- Final exam and all other assignments must be completed by 11:59 pm on Dec. 11.

IX. Detailed Outline of Course Content and Sequencing

The course is organized into 8 Units of work. A Unit is scheduled to be completed approximately every two weeks. Students should refer to the materials on the course site econhist.econproph.net and D2L for specific information on the outline of course content, sequencing, and due dates of assignments. With the exception of the Unit 8 and the final exam, all due dates are on Tuesday evenings at 11:59pm.

Unit	Expected Completion Date
Unit 1 Getting Started	Sept 1
Unit 2	Sept 21
Unit 3	Oct 5
Unit 4	Oct 19
Unit 5	Nov 2
Unit 6	Nov 16
Unit 7	Nov 30
Unit 8	Dec 11 (Thursday)

If a student anticipates not being able to work on the course for some particular 2-week period, they should contact the instructor. Arrangements can be made for legitimate conflicts, such as giving birth to a child, death in the family, hospitalization, etc.

X. Transfer Potential

For transferability information, please consult the Transfer Equivalency List located on the Internet at <http://www.lcc.edu/transfer>. For additional transferability information contact the LCC Counseling Services Department at 517-483-1255 and the college or university to which you intend to transfer.

XI. Student Academic Integrity

The very nature of higher education requires that students adhere to accepted standards of academic integrity. Therefore, Lansing Community College has adopted a code of academic conduct and a statement of student academic integrity. These may be found in the Lansing Community College Catalog where violations of academic integrity are listed and defined. Such violations include both cheating and plagiarism. It is the student's responsibility to be aware of behaviors that constitute academic dishonesty.

Classroom and online behavior that interferes with the instructional and learning processes is not tolerated. the consequences are addressed in the catalog under Administrative Withdrawal.
